Testing mode: The IHF World Championship will be held according to the current International Examination Regulations of the Fédération Cynologique Internationale (FCI) in all classes.

Competition stewards will command in English in all disciplines.

Qualification mode:

Each IHF member country determines its own qualification mode.

World Champion:

The title IHF World Champion is awarded only on level IGP 3 and OB 3. The best scorers of the performance levels IGP 1 and IGP 2 as well as OB 1 and OB 2 will be appointed as class winners.

Selection of Participants:

Each of the participating countries can enter several starters for the competition in an order chosen by themselves. The first person named on these lists is guaranteed to start. To fill up to the maximum number of participants, the second person named by each country will then follow, then the third on the list and so on. This will be continued until the maximum number of participants is reached. The final list of participants for the two competitions will then be published immediately and sent to the country representatives.

Registration:

Registrations are made through the IHF country representatives.

Direct registration of individual participants is not possible.

In addition to the information of the dog handlers and their dogs, we would like to ask you to provide a good photo of the team, and a brief outline of their sporting career.

IMPORTANT - We kindly ask all countries for advance information about the number of teams that will take part in respective discipline, or if so is the case, whether any teams will be sent at all to the world championship.
